They're part of our family at this point.

Almost! See why TriTech's Frank Di Cosimo partners with us

When TriTech Software decided to transition from a desktop model to a scalable, cloud-based SaaS platform, they needed a partner whose core competence is digital transformation.

That's where Proxet came in. Our team tackled complex challenges — from optimizing database performance to reducing overall latency. We brought a sense of ownership and urgency, delivering a future-proof and scalable platform.
